Discussion Items/Unfinished Business:

1. Oral History Project: Dick and Liz are connecting regarding an interview with Carol King Wagner, daughter of Gordon King who owned King's Market. Dick is researching the Oddfellows Hall on Ross Avenue.
2. Collections/ Database/ Acquisitions/ Research Projects:
Judy reported the following
  - a. No new collections or database information
  - b. Acquisitions: Antone brought items for use in displays: a catcher's mask from the 1920s, as well as some firemen's helmets and a presentation bugle from 1908. New lighting has been installed in the display cabinet.
  - c. Research projects underway: Dr. Mary H. Layman house on Oak Avenue with complete report next month. We were also contacted regarding 49 Belle Avenue.
3. Hallway Displays and New Projects:
  - a. Hallway Displays: Judy is taking down the Valentine's display. She and Antone are finishing the new "Civic" display. "Play Ball" will be installed by April by Judy, Rick and Antone
  - b. New Projects: Judy handed out the updated 2017 project list; she added the task to replace the bookcase
4. Historical Society Program: Joe Breeze has a previous commitment and is unable to be the speaker for the annual program. Alan agreed to contact Brad Rippe to see if he might have a program to present.
5. Museum Docent Schedule: All shifts covered for March.
6. Use of Social Media: Alan is doing a great job posting on Instagram but everyone is welcome to contribute. Alan suggested that "Follow us on Instagram" with the QR Code be added to our publications and on the door sign.

New Business

1. Carl Shapiro memorial is Sunday at the Log Cabin. Dick planned to make the Shapiro oral history available to Ford Greene.
