Please tell us why you wish to apply for this appointment:

I am interested in helping the community in a meaningful and direct way. I think that being on any of these committees will be a great way to learn more about our community, build my resume and gain real-world experience, as well as get involved in the community and help solve issues any way I can. While I would like to be on all the committees I chose above, I am most interested in the Climate Action Commission and Open Space Committee. Climate change is a prominent issue today, and I would like to make meaningful change in any way that I can, and being on the commission would be a great way to do so. I also frequently enjoy the open space areas with my family, and I would love to be involved in preserving the beautiful open space areas in the Ross Valley.

Please tell us how you think you can help the Commission/Committee improve:

As a teenager who has lived in San Anselmo their whole life, I have a unique perspective from other citizens. I grew up playing soccer on the Red Hill Fields, and spending hours in the library with my family. I truly want to help better our town, and I think that my young perspective will help do so. For each commission, I can help with social media publicity, school outreach, and connection to San Anselmo youth. As for specifically for how I could help, it depends on each board. For example, for the Climate Action Commission, climate change is an especially prominent issue facing the future of young people in today's world. I could use the knowledge I have gained from school to solve climate issues, as well as connect to other town youth.

Please tell us what you think are the most important issues facing the Commission/Committee:

An issue facing the Library Advisory Board is a lack of innovative programs geared towards middle and high school students. As young students grow up, they tend to lose interest in reading and attending the library. An issue facing the Open Space Committee is wildfire season around the corner, which the lack of rain will not help. An issue facing the Parks and Rec. committee is constant litter throughout San Anselmo's parks. An obvious issue facing the Climate Action Commission is drought, and water conservation, as well as greenhouse gas emissions. Lack of public outreach and education leads many people to thinking that g.g.emissions are only an issue for big cities and corporations, when they are really an issue that effects everybody.

Please tell us why you wish to apply for this appointment:

I'm interested in understanding how local government works and didn't know someone my age could actually participate, which is really appealing to me.

Please tell us how you think you can help the Commission/Committee improve:

I believe coming in as someone who has no experience is helpful as I'll have ideas and questions based on no prior information, so it's a fresh take. Additionally, I'm someone who grew up in Miami and travels often, which will offer a different perspective. I'm very close with my grandparents and uncles and have a motivation to find programs that will work for all ages in the community, including for younger people like me.

Please tell us what you think are the most important issues facing the Commission/Committee:

I'm not really sure, but am looking forward to learning what issues are being faced. I imagine meeting the needs of local citizens and while doing so, not meeting the needs of other citizens. Making choices won't make everyone happy, and that probably is a constant when working in local government.
